Woman's Trials.

The bitter trail in a woman's life is to be childless. Who can tell how hard the struggle may have been ere she learnt to resign herself to her lonely lot? The absence of this link to bind marital life together, the absence of this one pledge to mutual affection is a common disappointment. Many unfortunate couples become estranged thereby. Even if they do not drift apart, one may read the whole extent of their disappointment in the eyes of such a childless couple when they rest on the children of others. To them the largest family does not seem too numerous.

In many cases of barrenness or childlessness the obstacle to child-bearing is easily removed by the cure of weakness on the part of the woman. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been the means of restoring health and fruitfulness to many a barren woman, to the great joy of the household. In other, but rare cases, the obstruction to the bearing of children has been found to be of a surgical character, but easily removable by painless operative treatment at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., over which Dr. Pierce of the "Favorite Prescription" fame presides. In all cases where children are desired and are absent, an effort should be made to find out the real cause, since it is generally so easily removed by proper treatment.

In all the various weaknesses, displacements, prolapsus, inflammation and debilitating, catarrhal drains and in all cases of nervousness and debility, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the most efficient remedy that can possibly be used. It has to its credit hundreds of thousands of cures—more in fact than any other remedy put up for sale through druggists, especially for woman's use. The ingredients of which the "Favorite Prescription" is composed have received the most positive endorsement from the leading medical writers on Materia Medica of all the several schools of practice. All the ingredients are printed in plain English on the wrapper enclosing the bottle, so that any woman making use of this famous medicine may know exactly what she is taking. Dr. Pierce takes his patients into his full confidence, which he can afford to do as the formula after which the "Favorite Prescription" is made will bear the most careful examination.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the best and safest laxative for women.

Killed in Railroad Accident.

Five passengers were killed outright and a score were injured in a rear-end collision between a regular passenger train and a military special on the Boston and Maine Railroad, directly in front of the Lansingburgh depot north of Troy, N. Y., yesterday.

The collision took place on a heavy grade and sharp curve. The passenger train was one that leaves Boston daily at 9:30 a. m. for Albany. It consisted of five cars, a baggage car, smoker, day coach and two parlor cars, and yesterday was about one hour late when it reached Lansingburgh station, waiting there for a chance to get into the Troy depot.

Without apparently any warning the "special" came thundering along with 18 cars and crashed into the passenger train, smashing the last two cars, which were Pullmans, like egg shells.

Both these cars were swept from the track and rolled down the embankment. The engine of the special kept on for a dozen yards and then turned turtle, the front end plowing into the ground and the car behind being telescoped by the tender.

The special was drawing four troops of the Fourteenth United States Cavalry from Fort Ethan Allen to Newport News, where they are to embark for Cuba. The soldiers quickly got to work to rescue the injured. In a comparatively short time most of those pinned down by the wreckage were on their way to the Leonard Hospital, near the scene of the wreck. The dead were removed to an undertaking establishment.

Many of the passengers on the regular had left the train when it came to a standstill, and were pacing up and down the track when the crash came.

One man's grief was pitiable. His name was J. W. Tracey, and he ran up and down the track crying for his wife. In a few minutes her lifeless form was identified. They were married Wednesday night at Arlington, Mass., and were on their honeymoon, having planned an extended trip.

Engineer Thomas Holloran, of the special, who lives in Troy, immediateiy went to the police station in Lansinburg and surrendered himself.

Guilty of Embezzlement.

Henry Fischer was yesterday found guilty of embezzling $71,000 of the money of the defunct Homestead Building Association of Parkersburg. He was accused of embezzlement jointly with Robert Alexander, who died four months ago.

Attorneys for the defendant moved to set aside the verdict, and asked for a new trial, on the ground that one of the jurors, before whom the case had been tried, was out of custody of the sheriff for some time one night. If a new trial is not granted, the case will be appealed to the Supreme Court.

There was a touching scene in the courtroom when the verdict of guilty was returned. When the jurors filed into the courtroom the clerk asked Fischer to stand up, which he did, trembling, and tears streaming down his cheeks. When the verdict was read he dropped to his chair, seemingly dazed. His two daughters, who had been almost constantly in attendance at the trial, cried bitterly.

Fischer is more than seventy years old, and his hair is snow white. He comes from one of the very best families in that section. His trial has been one of the most sensational ever held in Wood county.

Bride and Groom Killed by Bull.

Fred. Cowan and his seventeen-years-old bride, nee Bertha Conniston, were gored to death by an angry bull in a pasture belonging to John Hatfield, near Richmond Falls, Raleigh county, W. Va., yesterday. The young couple had just been hurriedly married in opposition to the wishes of their parents, and were making their way to the railway to take a train. The young woman wore a red dress which enraged the bull roaming in the pasture. The young man fought the animal desperately to save his bride, but was gored in the side and trampled to death. The bull then attacked the girl, and pitched her over a wire fence. She died soon after from her injuries.

Is the Moon Inabited.

Scienre has proven that the moon has an atmosphere, which makes life in some form possible on that satelite; but not for human beings, who have a hard enough time on this earth of ours; especially those who don't know that Electric Bitters cure Headache, Biliousness, Malaria, Chills and Fever, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Dizziness, Torpid Liver, Kidney complaints. General Debility and Female weakness. Unequalled as a general Tonic and Appetizer for weak persons and especially for the aged. It induces sound sleep. Fully guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, Druggists. Price only 50.

All the good qualities of Ely's Cream Balm, solid, are found in Liquid Cream Balm, which is intended for use in atomizers. That it is an unfailing cure for Nasal Catarrh is proved by an ever-increasing mass of testimony. It does not dry out nor rasp the tender air-passages. It allays the inflamation and goes straight to the root of the disease. Obstinate old cases have been cured in a few weeks. All druggists, 75c., including spraying tube, or mailed by Ely's Bros., 56 Warren street, New York.

Denies Alienating Affections.

In the Circuit Court of Henrico today counsel for Mrs. Bessie L. Gordon, widow of George S. Gordon, will ask that the suit for $25,000 damages brought by Mrs. Bessie C. Paxson, of Washington, be dismissed. Mrs. Gordon has an estate worth $200,000. She is charged by Mrs. Paxson with alienating the affections of her husband.

One year ago Gordon went to Richmond with his young and beautiful wife. They were wealthy and purchased a beautiful home in Henrico county. Soon afterward Gordon died, and six months later his young widow married John S. Scorles. Gordon was a brother of Elizabeth Gordon Hanna, wife of Daniel Hanna, son of the late Mark Hanna.

Mrs. Paxson declares in her complaint that Mrs. Gordon, now Mrs. Scorles before her marriage to Mr. Scorles met her husband at Atlantic City and there alienated his affections. The Gordons were from Cleveland, where they are prominent in social circles. Mrs. Scorles and her husband have moved to see Angeles, Cal. It is possible that the case will have to be tried there.

JEWELRY.

Going Housekeeping?

If so, you can hardly get along without spoons, knives and forks. The silver-plated are without a doubt the most economical in the end. They wear longer, look better and cost very little more than the ordinary kinds. We can even supply silver-plated knives with steel blades.

Your sideboard is hardly complete without a silver set. Silver cake and fruit baskets should also be placed there.

A candelabra with will brighten the table considerably. After the spread has been cleared off a silver fern dish should be placed on the table.

The necessary things in cut-glass are the decanter, the berry bowl and the celery dish. In a great many homes the ice cream is served on cut glass plates.

On your dresser place a traveling alarm clock and a sterling silver or silver-plated toilet set, also a hat and clothes brush.

You will find plenty use of a number of small silver-plated trays. One has always so many trinkets to take care of.

There should be a jewel case on the dresser, if only for appearance sake. Over night it is a good place to keep the watch and Z—K Gold Chain.

SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

FRIDAY EVENING, OCT. 5, 1906.

THERE WAS another tragedy in a saloon operated for the entertainment of colored people in this city last night. Thomas Elzey, a colored man, was standing by a piano, singing snatches of the lay, "I don't know where I'm going, but I'm on my way," when a jealous negro named Howard Banks fired four bullets into his back, killing him instantly. The room was full of colored people, most of them young women, when the tragedy occurred, and the shrieks and the general stampede which followed caused much commotion in the extreme northeastern section of the city where many colored people are segregated. The above is but one of a series of tragedies that have occurred among colored people in Alexandria recently, four of such having taken place in one year. The saloon and the brothel are producing the natural harvest among this class of people. The earnings of the men are squandered in feeding lascivious tastes, while large numbers of young women sleep most of the day and repair to such resorts at night for the purpose of attracting customers to the saloons and to more evil resorts. Such is the condition today of a large percentage of a race of people who could secure honest employment and be respected. Their environments, however, attract them to other paths, which so often lead to death. This tide is rising higher and higher, and the flood will sooner or later have to be stayed. The pistol seems to be a pocket-piece deemed necessary by most negroes, and there are but few of the class alluded to above who do not carry them. Drink and cocaine render them irresponsible, and overt acts on the part of such are but the natural consequence.

EVERYBODY knows that the President is exceedingly anxious to put the republican scheme of making one State of the two territories, Arizona and New Mexico, but most well-thinking men will hold to the opinion that he stooped beneath the dignity of his high office when he wrote the following letter to Governor Kibbey, of Arizona:

I am sorry to say that grave charges have been made to me that under the organization of which you are the active leader there will not be a fair count of the votes on the question of statehood. If these charges were well founded I need not say to you that it will be a national disaster. I have no doubt there is no truth in them, but some prominent people in the United states do believe them, and they are joined in the belief by some of the most prominent people of Arizona and New Mexico. Therefore, to avoid all criticism, I direct that if you can in any way arrange it you will have representatives of the statehood people present at the canvassing of the votes on statehood. I have sent a copy of this letter to Gov. Hagerman of New Mexico and directed him to make the same arrangement—that is, to have representatives from both the statehood and anti-statehood parties present to witness the count of the votes.

Governor Kibbey sent a copy of this letter to Thomas E. Wilson, of Tucson, president of the Joint Statehood League, and wrote him in a very dignified way that inasmuch as no statehood party has filed the name of a candidate with the territorial secretary, he asks Mr. Wilson to furnish the names of statehood advocates to serve on election day and witness the count in each precinct.

THE preparation of the republican campaign text book, it has been stated, was by "an expert," and although there may be a great deal of difference of opinion on what subjects the author was expert upon, yet there is no doubt that the standpat people would claim him as a protectionist, for he declares the Dingley law to be sacred. How Secretary Taft, Gov. Cummins, Senator LaFollette, Gov. Guild, Mr. Foss and other republicans who believe in tariff revision and reciprocity view the expert's opinions on the sacred tariff law has not yet been publicly announced, but the slump in Maine would lead to the belief that republican policies declared for in the campaign book, although signed with the seal of approval of the strenuous dictator of the republican party, were not satisfactory to a large percentage of the republican voters. And after all it is the change of but a comparatively small percentage of voters that changes results of elections.

SECRETARY SHAW in a speech on August 19, 1905, at Morrisville, Vermont, declared that: "The protective tariff is not the mother of trusts, though it is the parent of conditions that make it profitable for capital to combine." President Roosevelt, since he joined with the standpatters to prevent tariff revision, had evidently the Shaw declaration in mind when he said in his letter to the Indiana congressman that "we favor the organization of capital;" which combination of capital according to his Secretary of the Treasury, has been made profitable by the protective tariff. This is a republican admission; that the tariff protects capital and leads to the organization of trusts—for an organization of capital protected by the tariff always envolves a trust—which advances the price of its products to the highest point possible. And this is the summum bonum of republican statesmanship.

THE question of the hour in New York republican circles is, Who is to receive the fat federal offices now the old Platt ring has been defeated? Still the new political machine must remember that Mr. Platt has two years more to serve in the Senate and Mr. Depew's term does not expire until 1911 and appointments to federal offices must be confirmed by the Senate.

From Washington.

Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

The negotiations in progress which have for their purpose the renewel of friendly relations between the government of Colombia and its former dependency, the present republic of Panama are likely to strike a rock on questions of finance. Colombia demands that Panama shall assume a portion of the outstanding foreign debt contracted by Colombia when Panama was still a part of that country. The proportion is to be assessed on the basis of population. The foreign debt of Colombia is about $15,000,000 and the population of Panama is about one fifteenth of that of Colombia. The debt that Panama is requirred to assume would be, therefore, $1,000,000. Panama has agreed to assume this debt. But as an offset to this Panama claims to hold certificates of indebtedness to show that Colombia borrowed money from her while she was still a part of that State to the extent of about $1,000,000.

The situation in Cuba was described as entirely satisfactory at the Cabinet meeting today. Secretary Bonaparte produced a map showing the disposition of the naval forces and of the marines and blue jackets that have been landed to preserve order and protect property. The marines are distributed at the following points: At Pina, 500; at Cienfuegos, 625; at Spiritus, 142; at Principe, 200; at Havanna, 30, and at Camp Columbia, 404, making a total of 1,901. There are besides 780 marines en route. The sailors that have been landed are stationed at the following places: At Constancia, 60; at Sagua La Grande, 30, and at Nuevitas 50, making a total of 40. Besides the large number of warships stationed in Havana harbor all of which carry a large reserve force of marines and sailors, the battleship Kentucky is at Matanzas, the Newark at Nuevitas the Cleveland and Marietta are at Cienfuegos and the Des Moines, Denver and Amphitrite at Santiago.

Representative Dwight, of New York, was one of the President's callers this morning. The Empire state political situation was pretty thoroughly gone over and when Mr. Dwight came out of the President's office, he said that in his mind there was no doubt whatever that Hughes would beat Hearst for the governorship. "This is going to be an open and above board campaign and the entire vote of the State will be brought out" said Mr. Dwight. "I do not believe that the voters on either side could be induced to stay at home as it is said they have been at times in the past. For instance, it was charged that a great deal of money was spent to pay voters to stay at home in the memorable Hill-Flower campaign. But that was a gumshoe fight. This is going to be an open and above board battle and both Mr. Hughes and Mr. Hearst will make an aggressive fight. The speakers are going to be all heard and the voters will register their will."

President Roosevelt has written a popular essay upon the Irish sagas which will be printed in the Century Magazine within a couple of months. The President has been deeply interested in the ancient Celtic folk songs and legends for several years and after gathering together all the translations he could find and articles bearing upon them, came to the conclusion that they deserve a better place in popular estimation than they now occupy. The article written by the President will, he hopes, be followed by others from more deeply read authorities on the subject.

The President today appointed Charles H. Robb, of Vermont, at present Assistant Attorney General, to be associate justice of the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia, to succeed Justice Duell, resigned.

The census bureau has issued a bulletin showing that 4,784,247 bales of cotton were taken by manufacturers in the United States in the year ending August 31, 4,871,168 bales consumed, and 675,987 bales of stocks held by manufacturers at close of year

Reuben Shepherd, colored, who said he was tired of having kinky hair, gave a white man a dollar for a bottle of medicine which he said would make Reuben's hair straight as his. A modus vivendi satisfactory to the New England fishermen and covering the present fishing season has been agreed upon between the United States and the government of Newfoundland. It enables the Gloucester fishermen to fish off the coast of Newfoundland under certain conditions without the danger of having their boats, nets, etc. seized and their catch confiscated.

One hundred and eleven new lawyers, including two women, were yesterday admitted to practice before the local courts.

Gigantic Deal in Wheat.

Charles M. Schwab, the steel magnate, and some of his Wall street, New York, associaties are said to be interested in a gigantic deal in wheat. Their operations, according to well-informed brokers, extend to all of the leading markets of the country, though the big end of the deal centers in Chicago, where recent heavy purchases by A. I. Valentine, former president of the Armour Grain Company, which stirred the Board of Trade, are now believed to have been made largely for the eastern men. The holdings of the bull clique are estimated by some as high as 15,000,000 bushels, while 12,000,000 is the figure advanced by more conservative traders.

It was the talk in Chicago yesterday that the combined holdings of the bull crowd in this and other markets would easily reach 30,000,000 bushels. Extreme caution characterizes the trade at the present time. Everybody on the floor of the exchange in Chicago yesterday kept a close watch on Mr. Valentine in the expectation of some new move that would set the market in a flurry. Prices for the greater part of the season, however, ruled steady.

The summons for the new Russian douma will be issued before October 13. This is the promise which has been made by Premier Stolypin.

At a meeting of the State fire marshals of the United States in Washington yesterday a national organization was effected and officers were elected. State fire marshal of Ohio, D. S. Creamer, was chosen president.

John B. Moran, of Boston, was nominated for governor by acclamation, as was also E. Gerry Brown, of Brockton, for lieutenant governor of Massachusetts by the democratic State convention yesterday. The platform praises both Hearst and Bryan.

The welcome address was responded to by Mayor Bradford Kilby, of Suffolk, on behalf of the league.

Demented Motorman.

Lee Schwartz, a motorman breaking in on the Grand street New York, cross-town cars, went stark mad yesterday as his car reached Broadway and dashed the vehicle full of terrified passengers, across the city at breakneck speed, while round his head he flourished the controller bar and threatened to make pulp of anyone who interfered with his mad career. Schwartz is a giant in size and men rushed aside in terror as they saw his car bearing down on them. At Allen street James Reardon, the regular motorman, who had been instructing the lunatic, attempted to wrest the murderous controller from his hands. At the locked front door men threatened and women screamed as they saw the giant pick up Reardon and dash his head against the iron gates of the front plaform. Schwartz shrieked with maniacal fury as he shoved the bar over another notch. He rang the bell furiously, and it was this that saved the lunatic-guided vehicle from a collision which must have meant death to some of the passengers. It required the reserves of one precinct to capture Schwartz and subdue him after the car had been raced across town.

No Difficulty.

There will be no personal difficulty between Dr. L. S. Foster, superintendent of the Eastern State Hospital, and Mr. Eugene Ould, member of the legislative committee. The matter, which has set the people of Williamburg at each other's throats for the past two weeks, was peaceably ended yesterday afternoon, when Dr. Foster and Mr. Ould met in the grounds of the Eastern Hospital, and accepted each other's explanations and shook hands.

The ending to the unpleasant incident occurred at a meeting of the local board of the asylum, and in the office of the storekeeper. Mr. Ould, in reading an afternoon paper, saw that Dr. Foster had disclaimed any intention of reflecting upon him or the young lady whom he was visiting on the night of September 17th. Approaching Dr. Foster, Mr. Ould asked him if he had authorized the statement made in the paper. Dr. Foster replied that he had. Mr. Ould offered his hand, which was accepted, and the two gentlemen chatted pleasantly for several minutes.

KILLED BY AN EXPLOSION.

Terrible Accident in Philadelphia Subway—Nine People Killed and Many Injured.

Philadelphia, Oct. 5.—Nine men were hurled to death by an explosin which occurred at 6:40 this morning in the Rapid Transit Company's subway, at Sixth and Market streets. Fourteen men are in hospitals suffering from injuries received in the same explosion, and there are probably dozens more who have been injured, of whom the police have heard nothing. It is believed that there are at least seven laborers still in the "hole," as it is called by the workmen. They were about to quit work when the explosion occurred, but had no means of escape. Caught like rats in a trap, they were either killed at once by the force of the explosion, the falling timbers, or by suffocation.

At 6:40 this morning, the whole section of the business part of the city on Market street, between Fifth and Seventh streets, was completely wrecked. It was at that moment the explosion occurred.

Pedestrians and subway workers, those who were going off and coming on duty, were hurled high in the air, cars were lifted from the tracks, and teams two squares away were sent flying from the tracks to the curbs.

Every window along Market street and the other intersecting thoroughfares were blown out by the concussion, and pedestrians fled in every direction.

It is safe to say that hundreds of men and women were cut, some of them dangerously, by the glass which fell from every window in every building in that part of the city.

A dump cart drawn by two horses and driven by a colored man, was directly over the portion of the subway where the explosion occurred. The whole outfit was sent high in the air and fell into the pit, which had suddenly opened, and which in an instant was converted into a veritable inferno.

The flames leaped higher than any of the many high buildings in that neighborhood and it was only the heroism shown by a half dozen men that the six bodies were rescued from the flames and dragged to the sidewalk, where they remained until the police patrol wagons removed them to the morgue.

Men and women who were passing along Market street on their way to work were struck by the pieces of heavy glass and injured, how seriously cannot yet be learned, but trails of blood from the people who were hurt could be followed as far as Second street.

When the explosion occurred men, planks, horses, and trolley cars were thrown into the air and came down in a great jumbled mass. There was a great clash of falling glass, and then there was a silence which was only broken by the roaring of the gas flames. Sixth and Market street, on the north side of the latter thoroughfare, took on the appearance of what Hades is supposed to be.

Flames of all colors, belched forth and mingled with them was the odor of burning flesh. Trolley cars which had been lifted from the tracks by the force of the upheavel were stalled just where they dropped, and one of them had two three inch joists through the roof and extending almost to the floor of the car. Not a whole pane of glass was left in the car. Several women passengers were cut and fainted. The men rushed to the streets and were lost in the crowd which soon gathered. Four women who passed by the bodies stretched out on the sidewalks, were overcome by the sight of the pools of blood, and were taken care of by friend.

Hysterical shrieks were heard on all sides from girls and even men. Some of the latter ran from the scene sobbing and not ashamed of the fact that their emotions had overcome them. At one time within five minutes after the explosion occurred there were five bodies on the south side of Market street, at Sixth. One was stretched out just west of Sixth street, three were at the southwest corner, and a fifth lay on the sidewalk in front of Wanamaker & Brown's.

One man was found underneath a pile of timber. The derrick house, derrick, and all the shoring of the subway are up in a heap. The gas is still blazing, and the efforts of scores of workmen who are trying to smother the flames with earth, which is being hauled to the scene as rapidly as possible, have, so far, been futile.

As soon as the employees of the United Gas Company could do so, the supply of gas was turned off.

The United States and Cuba.

Havana, Oct. 5.—Reports today show that the form of disarmament which the provisional government is allowing to pass unchallenged is proceeding with unexpected smoothness. Rebels are surrendering their antiquated blunderbusses to the United States authorities, while their service rifles are being smuggled home for use in the next revolution. This is no more than was expected. Now that peace reigns and order is rapidly being restored, Cuba, with a sigh of relief, has sunk back upon the broad bosom of Gov. Taft. But there is only one topic of conversation throughout the island in connection with the political troubles and this is that Havana is unanimous in the opinion that annexation must come. The probability of the little republic being made a part of the United States is discussed everywhere.

Briefly summarized as the situation is today, and likely to continue for some time, the United States holds control in Cuba, the people have acquiesced in intervention, the island is becoming quiet and peaceful.

President Roosevelt's promise of a new election was made in good faith, but it is not believed that the time for the election will ever arrive. Control by the United States is not expected to be relinquished, and the result will probably be suzerainty of Cuba's affairs as is exercised by Great Britain over Egypt.

New York Stock Market.

New York, October 5.—There was an unexpected demonstration of strength in the stock market all through the list during the greater part of the first hour with several houses buyers of all prominent issues at higher levels. Great Northern made a gain of 4 points to 335; Reading rose 1 point to 152½; Union Pacific advanced 1½ to 185½; Steel common moved up from 47½ to 47⅞, and Colorado Fuel to 56⅜. Many other stocks made gains of about one point.

Hearst Throws Down the Gauntlet.

Chatam, N. Y. Oct. 5.—W. R. Hearst, independence league candidate for Governor, with a democratic endorsement, threw down the gauntlet, to Patrick H. McGarren, today, and decided that so far as he is concerned, the result in Kings county this fall cuts no ice with him. Even though the county may go 75,000 against him, Hearst is adamantine in his declaration that his third ticket stays in the field in Kings county. Hearst's stand is the most important announcement made since the campaign opened not even expecting his letter of acceptance, as it proves beyond all doubt, that, wherever there is a question between independence leaguers and democrats, the head of the democratic ticket will support the independence league ticket against the regular democratic organization.

Terrorists Rob a Train.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 5.—Terrorists engaged in the robbery plans of their organization to procure funds for the terrorist campaign, made a rich haul today in the hold up of a train, securing $130,000 and making their escape.

The hold-up occurred near Ufa, in Eastern Russia. Forty men were in the party which made the attack. An obstruction was placed on the track, forcing the engineer to come to a stop. Armed men boarded the train, turned their weapons on the guards and passengers and threatened to shoot any one who offered resistance.

While this was being done, other members of the party forced open a strong box in which the money was being carried, and made a clean haul. They then scattered and made good their escape. One guard who tried to resist the robbers, was killed.

Tornado in New Orleans.

New Orleans, Oct. 5.—A tornado passed diagonally across the residential portion of New Orleans about 8 a. m., today blowing down houses, taking off roofs, tearing down fences and doing other damage. At Fourth and Magnolia streets a house was demolished and a woman and child severely hurt. A factory at Erato and Magnolia streets is also reported to have suffered severely.

Four persons were killed at Pontchatoula. The property loss will reach $200,000. The hurricane swept over an area of 100 miles.

Wrecking of Emigrant Steamer.

Hong Kong Oct. 5.—Terrible tales of suffering are told by survivors from the wreck of the emigrant steamer Charterhouse, picked up from the sea by the Kohsichang, following the foundering of the emigrant vessel off Hainan. The survivors had been floating for 48 hours on rafts without food or water, when they were picked up. The Charterhouse went down during the storm at night, darkness adding to the horrors of the situation. The storm which wrecked the steamer was so violent that it was impossible to launch the life boats.

Massachusetts Republicans.

Boston Oct. 5. President Roosevelt's standpat policy was endorsed by the republican state convention this morning, and was incorporated in the platform adopted, so far as it affects the tariff question. The platform endorses President Roosevelt's administration, declares against state or national ownership of railroads, and condemns the disfranchisement of negroes and lynch law in the South. The convention will nominate by acclamation the entire list of state officers headed by Governor Curtis Guild, jr., of Boston.

The Mine Horror.

Bluefield, W. Va., Oct. 5.—All night long rescuing parties searched for the dead miners in the west mine of the Pocahontas Collieries Company and up early this morning twenty burned and mutilated bodies were brought to the surface. The company is maintaining the utmost secrecy and to neither the names or the correct number of dead is impossible. The dead still estimate at from 75 to 100.

Germany to Send Special Commissioner.

Birmingham, Eng., Oct. 5.—Germany is sending a special commissioner to Washington with a view of settling the tariff disagreement between the two nations. This is the statement made today by the Birmingham Post, which says it has the best of authority for the declaration. Both governments are in a conciliatory mood, and desire to reach an agreement on the tariff situation. Berlin hopes that a setttlement will be made before the end of the present year.

Steamer Aground.

New York, Oct. 5.—The steamship Bermudian of the Trinidad line is aground on Red Hook flats. The Bermudian, with several hundred passengers was bound in from Bermuda, when she grounded. How she got on the Red Hook flats which is a mile or more out of her course, is not known.

Funeral of Al. Adams.

The funeral of Al. Adams, the "policy king," who committed suicide, was held yesterday afternoon from the family home in New York. Rev. N. N. Seagle, of St. Stephens' Protestant Episcopal Church, officiated. The parlor in which the body lay was a mass of flowers. They hid a large part of the walls. The casket was covered with bunches of violets and roses, and over part of the flowers lay the American flag, which was placed there by James W. Wadsworth Post, of the G. A. R., of which Adams was a member. Mr. Seagle began his talk with the scriptural selection, "I am the resurrection and the life." He made no reference to Adams' business, but spoke feelingly of the beautiful home life he had led. "His wife and children rose up and called him blessed," said the clergyman. Touching the flag that draped the coffin, the clergyman recalled the fact that Adams had been a soldier, and he said that any man who had fought for his colors deserved the commendation of his fellow-men.

Letter to Gottlieb Kicherer.

Alexandria, Virginia.

Dear Sir: A pound of good meat and no bone is worth more than a half-pound of meat and a half pound of bone; but there are, as you say, a great many people who won't pay more than a certain price by the pound. Give 'em bone; that's right; give 'em plenty of bone!

There are people who won't pay more than $1.50 a gallon for paint; give 'em bone!

There's no better schools than experience; cost is high; but the lesson is never forgotten.

Let a man paint two houses alike, same size; one Devoe, the other that $1.50 paint. He buys 10 gallons of each, and pays $3 a day for labor—$3 a day is $3 a gallon, easier reckoning.

He has to buy two gallons more of the $1.50 paint, and has two gallons left of Devoe: 12 gallons $1.50, $18; 8 gallons $1.75, $14; $4 more for "cheap" paint.

He pays $3 a gallon for painting: 8 gallons $24; 12 gallons $36; $12 more for painting "cheap" paint.

He'll buy the less-gallons paint after that; if people are slow to learn, it's because they keep on buying bone meat. Give 'em plenty of bone.

Yours truly,

The Government Printing Office.

To the Editor of the Alexandria Gazette.

So many comments have been made of late in connection with the management of the government printing office that I want to congratulate you on the editorial which appeared in your paper a few days ago in defense of Mr. Stillings. I am firmly convinced, from what I have seen, that the present public printer is the most practical man who ever filled the position, and he is using his knowledge to better the conditions of the big print shop. In the past it has not always been the survival of the fittest, but the longest "pull" knocked the persimmons. As I view it, the present public printer wants to reward the meritorious employee, irrespective of political ideas or influence, and he expects a man to deliver the goods. I have been an employee of the office for about 12 years and ought to know whereof I speak. Mr. Stillings has never issued an order which could not be lived up to by any employee. If he intends to weed out all the incompetents however, I fear he has the work of a lifetime. I hope he will continue in the way he has started, irrespective of adverse or favorable criticism. He has proven his practicability and real worth by his selection of men to formanize the different departments. I wish him success, and our government would be well protected if it had more men like Chas. A. Stillings. GEO. H. HAYDEN.

A Colored Confederate.

James Humbles, one of the best-known colored men of Lexington, is dead, aged 72 years. He was born of free parents and was never a slave. During the civil war he entered the Confederate army and served as bugler in Company C, First Virginia Cavalry, commanded by Capt. M. X White and afterward by Capt. C. E Jordan. During part of the war he carried a musket and saw active service, serving with great gallantry. He attended the Confederate reunion in Richmond several years ago with his bugle hanging over his shoulder. He carried a Confederate flag at the head of the division, and, owing to his great height and size, attracted much attention.

During his life he never voted any but the democratic ticket in all elections. He amassed considerable property in Lexington and conducted a restaurant and ice-cream parlor for many years. He made friends everywhere he went and was respected by his own race and liked by the citizens of the town. For many years in his young days he was anactive worker in church work and a class leader. His funeral was one of the largest ever held there, and many white persons attended.

The Tie-up of Steamboats.

Conditions in Baltimore incident to the tie-up of the steamboats of the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic, and the Maryland, Delaware and Virginia railway companies are causing no little anxiety, while untold inconvenience is being experienced on the Potomac and other rivers.

Capt. Willard Thomson, general manager of the two steamboat companies, most of whose boats are tied up, yesterday sent to each of the captains who have resigned his position a letter of considerable length. Capt. Thomson's letter goes on to state that his company is entirely willing to take up and adjust matters of pay that may be presented by the captain, addressed individually, or with the captains of the company's boats collectively, or with any committee composed of such captains, but states that the matter cannot be taken up with outsiders, and it declares that the company cannot submit to having its captains members of an association to which their subordinates belong, though, at the same time, Capt. Thomson disclaims any objection to wisely managed trade unions.

Public Business Aside.

Hon. James R. Caton, of Alexandria, was a caller at the State Auditor's office yesterday. Mr. Caton stated that he was in the city attending to some private business. "Since the adjournment of the Legislature I have devoted myself entirely and exclusively to my own business," said Mr. Caton.

"During the session I was engrossed with public business, but when it closed I laid it aside and have not given it a thought since. Mr. Caton intimated that he, if he came back to the Legislature next year, preferred service in the House to a term in the Senate.

Hon. L. H. Machen is the Senator from the district and is expected to be a candidate for re-election next year.—[Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Major Sylvester's Report.

Maj. Sylvester's report to the Commissioners of the District of Columbia as to the conduct of Capt. Mathews and the police of the Fourth precinct, on the night Engineer Hugh Murphy was scalded to death, is not likely to be received with satisfaction by the members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. The brotherhood preferred the charges, which culminated in a hearing before Commissioner Macfarland.

The report vigorously defends Capt. Mathews, Lieut. Mulhall and the police of their command, who were called to render assistance on the night of the accident. The railroad men, through their attorney, Mr. Charles Bendheim, will ask the Commissioners to hear additional testimony relative to Capt. Mathews' alleged rough treatment of several men who were vainly attempting to relieve the dying engineer's sufferings.

Maj. Sylvester recommends that the police trial board be directed to try Capt. Mathews, Lieut. Mulhall and the six or seven policemen interested.

Maj. Sylvester, in his report, does not give much importance to the question of the capacity of the jacks used by the railroad workmen in their efforts to lift the engine from Murphy. On this subject he says:

"The question of the capacity of jacks, both screw and hydraulic, has been raised. There appears to have been several jacks brought to the scene of the wreck some of which were not in order, but, so or not, it was the duty of the police to have permitted their use and application without regard to their capacity. In an emergency where established and capable appliances are not at hand, any means should be utilized which might rescue, aid or protect."

Thomas H. Brickley, a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, after learning the nature of Maj. Sylvester's report, said it is not just what he expected, but he would not care to criticise it. He did say, however, that his association will fight the case to the end, and is prepared to furnish at least a dozen more witnesses, who can testify to the conduct of the police.

School Board.

At the monthly meeting of the City School Board held last night there were present Capt. Herbert Bryant and Messrs. Thomson, Yates, Ramsay, Thompson, Bradshaw, Carne and the Superintendent.

The clerk was directed to pay the board's share of the cost of building the party fence in the rear of Washington building.

Mr. Yates reported that the work of repairing the buildings and furniture had been about completed and presented the bill, for the same. He said the board had been complimented on the improvements that had been made. The janitor of Seaton building, he said, had asked for twenty-five window curtains for that building, but the committee had made an adverse recommendation.

A number of bills for repairs were presented and ordered to be paid.

Mr. Yates, in explanation of the amount of the bills, said the buildings were all in bad condition, as but little had been done upon them by the previous committees for some years past. He said that next year another roof would be required for one of the buildings.

A communication from the Misses Rotchford in reference to the pupils of Lee school who were taking music lessons from them was referred to the Superintendent with power to act.

The Superintendent reported that the schools were all in successful operation and that the new teachers were all doing well; none of the teachers had been absent during the last month.

Funeral.

The funeral of the late Hesselius Smith took place this afternoon from his late home, northwest corner of Cameron and Pitt streets. Alexandria-Washington Lodge of Masons, of which the deceased had long been a member, attended in a body, and the interment was accompanied with Masonic honors. Rev. W. J. Morton, rector of Christ Church, conducted the religious services. The pallbearers were Messrs. T. W. Robinson, S. H. Lunt, K. Kemper, R. W. Arnold, A. H. Oehlert and T. W. White. The deceased had been employed in the First National Bank of this city for over forty years. Mr. Malcolm J. Smith, of Chicago, son of the deceased; Mrs. R. B. Dear, of Superior, Wis.; Mr. H. Erric Smith, of New York, brother of the deceased, of New York, and Mrs. George Macrae, of Centreville, Fairfax county, attended the funeral.

Maccabees.

As has been stated, the Knights of the Maccabees of this city will tender their Supreme Commander, Mr. D. P. Markey, a reception tonight at Sarepta Hall at 8 o'clock. The programme will consist of musical selections by Mr. Floyd Featherston and his assistant, Miss Dora Varney, and addresses by Sir Knight Rev. J. A. Jeffers; Supreme Commander D. P. Markey, Mr. Abb. Landis, Editor of Fraternal Monitor, and Miss Bena M. West, Supreme Record Keeper of the Ladies of the Maccabees. Admission will be by card. The following gentlemen compose the committee who have the arrangements in charge: M. A. Brenner, chairman; C. S. Sherwood, Geo. K. Bender, C. A. Bladen, and Geo. E. Hepburn.

Police Court.

[Justice L. H. Thompson presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

A young white man, arrested by Officer Sherwood for being drunk in the streets, was dismissed with an admonition.

Thomas Gibson, colored, arrested by Officers Garvey and Lyles charged with assaulting Kate Gibson, was dismissed, the planitiff failing to appear.

Howard Banks, colored, arrested by Lieutenant Smith and Officer Sherwood charged with killing Thomas Elzey, colored, was sent on to the grand jury. Estelle Bouy and Henry Clark, both colored, were held in connection with the case.

KILLED IN A SALOON.

Thomas Elzey Shot and Killed by Howard Banks—Shooting Said to Have Been Caused by Jealousy.

Thomas Elzey, a well-known colored resident, was shot by Howard Banks, also colored, shortly after eight o'clock last night in a saloon on the northeast corner of Princess and Royal streets. The tragedy is believed to have been caused by jealousy over a young mulatto woman named Estelle Bouy. The evidence shows that four shots were fired by Banks. The first ball missed Elzey and passed through the pocket of a colored man named Gus Griffin, who was playing a piano at the time.

Banks left the saloon after the shooting and made his way to the home of a relative on north Pitt street, where he remained until an early hour this morning. He later went to the station house and delivered himself up to Lieutenant Smith.

As soon as the shooting was reported at the station house Lieutenant Smith telephoned to Washington and requested the police of that city to look out for Banks and detailed Officer Knight to go to that city. He also sent Officers Ferguson and Bettis in a buggy into Alexandria county with instructions to search all the brick yards for the fugitive.

Banks and another negro named Henry Clark, who is suspected of being a party to the killing, were brought before Justice Thompson in the Police Court this morning. The examination on the part of the State was conducted by Mr. S. G. Brent, Commonwealth's Attorney, and Mr. L. H. Machen appeared as counsel for the defense.

Charles Jones, colored, the bartender in the saloon, was the first witness put on the stand. He testified to the effect that there had been bad feeling between the two men, and that he had warned Banks of the consequences of causing a row in the place. The shooting, he said, occurred in the rear portion of the saloon where a number of men and women were assembled.

Estelle Bouy, who is believed to have caused the friction between the two men, followed. It seems that Banks had become interested in the woman, but his advances had not been looked upon with favor, while Elzey had been enjoying the companionship of the woman. The witness said during the afternoon a colored girl named Theresa (witness did not know her other name) had taken Elzey's hat; that Banks had interested himself in the matter and had struck Elzey. The men had met in the saloon again last night when the trouble had been renewed, during which Banks had applied a vile epithet to Elzey's mother. Elzey, who was in the act of drinking a bottle of beer at the time, threatened to strike Banks with the bottle if he repeated the language. The shooting occurred soon after.

Henry Clark (who, it was said, had before the shooting uttered the words "Now is your chance, Banks,") was later put upon the stand. He testified to having heard the two men quarreling and hearing the shots. He denied having used the language attributed to him.

Chief Goods testified that he and Officer Beach had found the pistol in the place where Banks told them it had been placed.

Officer Knight followed. He testified that Banks had told him that after the shooting he made his way to the river on the northeastern boundary of the city and threw the weapon into a cove; that later he went near Hume's Spring, in the county, and slept in a barn.

Bessie Keys was then put upon the stand. She said Banks and Elzey were quarreling in the saloon, and that Banks had used the language regarding Elzey's mother as averred by the preceding witnesses and that Elzey had threatened to use the bottle on Banks. The dead man, she said, was walking away from Banks when the latter discharged his pistol, shooting Elzey in the back.

Ida Fuller testified that yesterday afternoon Estelle Bouy, who was in the saloon, was sitting in Elzey's lap, and that at that time Banks and Elzey were at variance with each other.

Walter Elzey, a brother of the dead man, took the stand. He said he was in the saloon at the time of the shooting. He said the first ball from the pistol went through the pocket of Gus Griffin, who was playing the piano at the time. His brother Tom, after the first shot, ran, when Banks fired four shots in his body. His brother, he said, was about 25 years old.

No other witnesses were examined, and Banks was sent on to the grand jury.

Dr. Moore, the Coroner, conducted an inquest this morning at Demaine & Son's undertaking parlors. Dr. Smith, by direction of the Coroner, made an examination of the remains of Elzey. The following was his report:

One bullet entered the back between the eighth and ninth ribs on the right side, breaking the ninth rib and passing into the lower lobe of the right lung where it was found, together with fragments of ribs. Another bullet entered the back on the left side, about four inches from the spine, passing through the large bowel, the left lobe of the liver, through the diaphragm, the apex of the heart and was found lying in the pericardial cavity. Two bullets entered the right liver of the back, one and a half inches from the spine, and cut through the blood vessels of the right kidney and the large bowel, and are probably lying in the intestinal canal somewhere.

The jury was composed of Messrs. R. M. Graham, foreman; F. F. Marbury, A. H. Oehlert, C. P. C. Timberman, J. T. Haring and F. H. Harper.

The same witnesses who were before the Police Court testified at the inquest, and their testimony was substantially the same.

The jury returned the following verdict:

We, the jury, find that Thomas Elzey came to his death Thursday, October 4th (in a saloon, on Princess street, near Royal), from gunshot wounds at the hands of Howard Banks. We further find that the shooting was unprovoked. In testimony whereof the said coroner and jurors have hereto set their hands.

Elzey several years ago, it will be remembered, shot and killed a colored man named William Pinkney, near a saloon on upper Duke street. He was acquitted by the Corporation Court, as it appeared that the killing was accidental.

Banks was indicted by the grand jury this afternoon.

Opera House.

The Corinne Runkel Stock Company presented last night "A True Kentuckian," a play full of genuine comedy and pathos, in a manner deserving of the highest praise. The drama throughout was extremely interesting, and the actors and actresses were all vociferously applauded. Miss Runkel played the part of Madge in her usually fine manner, while Mr. Breton as the Kentucky colonel was decidedly good. The others in the cast were well up in their parts and deserve much credit. The specialties again made a hit, especially that of the Runkel Duo (Corinne and Dave), which was far above the average. The act was styled "Wireless telegraphy," and was given an ovation. Tonight the company will produce "The Ironmaster," the best piece in the company's repertoire, a drama full of good situations and plenty of comedy. The best specialties of the week will be introduced and everything done to made this the strongest play ever seen here. At the matinee at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow evening "Trix" will be presented. To the person holding the correct number a handsome diamond ring or a gold bracelet will be given away. The beautiful bedroom set or sideboard, which will be given away Saturday night to the person holding the right number, is on exhibition in T. A. Groves's show window and the jewelry at Saunders & Son's.

Cumberland Acquitted.

Yesterday's session of the Federal court in Richmond was consumed in the trial of the case of W. H. Cumberland charged with securing, secreting and destroying certain letters addressed to another person. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty. According to the testimony adduced Cumberland was a guest at the house of Mrs. Susan W. Walker, of Fairfax county, and it was alleged that he secured the letters for the purpose of prying into her affairs. It was also brought out in evidence that the man had applied for the lady's mail, but the postmaster refused to give him the mail without an order. One of the letters was a registered letter, but this was not delivered to the accused. He admitted having secured two other letters, but claimed that he turned them over to a small negro boy employed at the house of Mrs. Walker to deliver them to her. Although he had made a partial confession of the charge against him, the jury rendered a verdict of not guilty and Cumberland was discharged. He had been held in jail in this city for some time.

Edward Nash, colored, of Accotink, who had also been held in jail in this city on a charge of violating the postal laws was also acquitted yesterday, the grand jury in Richmond having failed to indict him.

Corporation Court.

[Judge L. C. Barley presiding.]

The grand jury met again today and was adjourned till 2 o'clock. Judge Barley stated that he had called them together to consider the matter of the steamer Bartholdi carrying passengers from this city to the "ark" anchored in the river nearby, on which it is reported gambling is conducted, but that as he had not been able to fully look into the matter an investigation would not be had at this term. Just as the jury was about to adjourn Commonwealth's Attorney Brent called his attention to the murder committed last night, and stated that as the matter would be before a coroner's jury today the grand jury might remain in session till a coroner's verdict is rendered and then the grand jury might act. Thereupon the jury was adjourned till 2 o'clock.

The grand jury met again this evening and indicted Howard Banks, colored, for the murder last night of Thomas Elzey, also colored.

The grand jury was then discharged.

Dance Last Night.

The Thursday Night Assembly's dance last night was a success in every way, despite the inclemency of the weather, as it was the largest gathering the assembly has had to entertain during its organization. A great many out-of-town guests were present, although the majority were from this city. The orchestra was composed of some of Washington's best musicians and the music was greatly enjoyed by all present. After the dance supper was served at the Hotel Rammel. The assembly will give these dances every Thursday throughout the season, and all attending are always assured a pleasant time. The committee of last night's affair was Messrs. Harry Dachslager, Henry Steiner and Jerome Kaufmann.

Mr. Belt recommends the acceptance of the engine by the Fire Wardens. The engine was therefore accepted and was at once put into service.

THE DISCOVERER

Of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the Great Woman's Remedy for Woman's Ills.

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement.

No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles or such hosts of grateful friends as has

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

It will entirely cure the worst forms of Female Complaints, Inflammation and Ulceration, Falling and Displacement, and consequent Spinal Weakness, and is peculiarly adapted to the Change of Life.

It has cured more cases of Backache and Local Weaknesses than any other remedy the world has ever known. It is almost infallible in such cases. It dissolves and expels tumors in an early stage of development.

Irregular, Suppressed or Painful Periods, Weakness of the Stomach, Indigestion, Bloating, Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility quickly yield to it. Deranged organs, causing pain, weight and backache, instantly relieved and permanently cured by its use. Under all circumstances it invigorates the female system.

It quickly removes that bearing-down feeling, extreme lassitude, "don't care" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feeling, excitability, irritability, nervousness, dizziness, faintness, sleeplessness, flatulency, melancholy or the "blues" and headache. These are sure indications of Female Weakness, or some derangement of the organs, which this medicine surely cures. Chronic Kidney Complaints and Backache, of either sex, the Vegetable Compound cures.

Those women who refuse to accept anything else are rewarded a hundred thousand times, for they get what they want—a cure. Sold by Druggists everywhere. Refuse all substitutes.

Ancestral Memory.

As I walk along a dark, lonely road my ears are on the alert. I glance to right and left. I look over my shoulder. Where did I learn this habit? May it not be the memory disk giving off its record? My savage ancestor learned by long years of experience to be specially on his guard in a lonely place and in the dark. When my indignation is thoroughly roused I find my hands clinch, there is a tightening of the lips, the teeth are more plainly visible, and the whole attitude is suggestive of making a spring. Here is a trait of early man, who gathered himself together and sprang upon his enemy to rend him with tooth and claw. I have often noticed that when people use the word "offensive" it is accompanied by a quiver of the nostrils and an involuntary movement of the nose. The imagination is still haunted by that piece of very offensive carrion which my primitive ancestor with a prejudice for raw meat found too strong for him, so strong that his nose rejected it at once.—Nineteenth Century.

How to Learn a Foreign Language.

One may begin the attempts of free expression, and thus an independent use of the language, with a comparatively small vocabulary. Conscientious reading and well conducted conversations will then quickly enlarge the vocabulary and develop the facility of expression. But I cannot lay too much stress upon the fact that the free and exact rendering of one's own thought in writing is the most efficient exercise in acquiring a language. In mere conversation we are apt to slip over difficulties by permitting ourselves vagueness and inaccuracies of expression which would sternly demand correction—and correction, too, easily kept in mind—when the written words look us in the face. To quicken the efficacy of this exercise requires, of course, a teacher able not only to pound grammatical rules into the head of the pupil, but also to stir up in the study of the language a mentally active interest in the subjects spoken or written about.—Carl Schurz's Reminiscences in McClure's.

Sailors on Strike.

That English soldiers or sailors should strike for more pay in a way such as we are accustomed to in trades sounds impossible, but such things have occurred, the last time being in April, 1797, when the sailors demanded higher wages and literally struck, otherwise mutinying. The admiralty agreed to meet their demands, but, not doing so at once, the sailors aboard the London struck or mutinied again, and for ordering the marines to fire, thereby killing some men, Admiral Colpoys and his captain were made prisoners by the sailors. On May 10 a special act was passed granting the increased pay, and the king pardoned the mutineers.—London Telegraph.

Natural Spectacles.

Many birds are provided with natural spectacles, a transparent membrane called the third eyelid. This third eyelid when not in use lies folded in the inner corner of the eye. Two muscles work it, spreading it over the cornea or folding it up again much more cleverly than a man can put on or take off his spectacles. But for its third eyelid the eagle could not look at the sun. The spectacled bear belongs to Chile. Its Latin name is Ursus ornatus. It is black, and around its eyes pale rings are drawn which have exactly the appearance of a pair of goggles.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Wind Velocity.

The average velocity of the wind is low, in most places between five and ten miles an hour, corresponding respectively to wind pressure of from two ounces to eight ounces a square foot. During portions of nearly every day, however, somewhat higher velocities are recorded, since the averages contain considerable periods of very light breezes occurring often within a few hours before and after sunrise and sunset. There are few days without periods of brisk breezes of from fifteen to twenty miles an hour.

Rather Caustic.

"Did you tell your father I was a humorist?" asked the tall young man with long hair.

"I did," replied the pretty girl, "and he laughed."

"Laughed? Why, I thought he used to say writing jokes was hard on the brain."

"So he did; but he says he never heard of your writing any jokes."—Chicago News.

The Very Thing.

"Yes, ma'am," said the salesman, "an establishment like ours has its own literary staff. Here, for example, is an 'Ode to Our Furniture Polish,' written by our own poet and set to music by our own musician."

"An ode to furniture polish!" exclaimed Miss Peekay-Booh. "Why, that would be just the thing to take home and try on the piano!"—Chicago Tribune.

Immense.

"What's the difference between vision and sight?"

"See those two girls across the street?"

"Yes."

"Well, the pretty one I would call a vision of loveliness, but the other one—she's a sight."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.
